

Meet the Applied Math Faculty and Students

A special event for first and second year graduate students, and anybody else who is interested.

Wednesday, 7 November 2012

4pm-5pm

in 617 Wachman Hall

Abstract

The faculty and students of the Applied Mathematics and Scientific Computing group introduce themselves, give an outline of possible research directions, provide an overview over the basic and advanced graduate level courses in applied mathematics and scientific computing, and will be available for questions and discussions.

Tea and cookies will be provided.

Further information

- Group website
<http://www.math.temple.edu/research/applied>
- Mathematical modeling course
<http://www.math.temple.edu/research/applied/modeling/>
- Group seminar
<http://www.math.temple.edu/events/seminars/applied/>